History

Code Youth Canada was founded and incorporated as a not-profit organization July 6, 2017 by Mona Forrest. Code Youth engaged with the community, summer project members, volunteers, youth-serving organizations and technology companies to develop a strong social media presence, form relationships to support Ottawa's youth, and conduct multiple studies to better understand the challenges that today's youth face.

Our Mission

Our mission is to support at-risk and underserved youth between the ages of 17-29 in finding employment solutions, especially youth who have dropped out of high school. We provide entry level coding training and the tools necessary to find meaningful entry level employment in the IT sector.

Our Vision

A world where youth who have not completed high school will have a second chance at acquiring relevant skills and an opportunity to improve their quality of life by building a rewarding career in technology.

Corporate Testimonial

"Our Code Youth intern exceeded expectations in his role as Software Developer. He very quickly became an integral member of the team at Rebel. His technical skills were apparent immediately after joining, and he settled into the team dynamic perfectly. It was amazing to see how over only three months' internship, he became a confident, contributing member of our Development team.

We're so happy to have been able to offer him a permanent position at Rebel, and that he will be continuing with us full-time".
